

Easter calls for new shoes, says Tommy Eyelet. It is a fact, too, for who can be well dressed without good shoes? For Sunday or for dress there is one store which can be relied on for "just right shoes" and that store is ours. Our new patented leathers are the talk of the town. Button and lace. $3.50; $4.00; $5.00

A Worthful Lecture.

Chancellor Henry A. Buchtel of the University of Denver delighted a small but very appreciative audience in the Methodist church, Thursday evening, in his splendid lecture on "The Pleasantry of American Life," given by the chancellor under auspices of the lecture committee of the Brotherhood of St. Paul. There can be but one regret, that the attendance was not much larger, notwithstanding the weather was unfavorable.

The chancellor contrasted American life with the best of European life, to the infinite advantage of existence under the stars and stripes for the average man, the great common people, mentioning such points of advantage in America as civil and religious liberty, genuine social equality, an abounding sense and appreciation of humor, matchless resources, comparative absence of pauperism and numerous other items in favor of American life which place America in a class by itself as the pleasantest place for the average man to live in among all the countries known to history. You felt satisfied and proud to be an American, after the chancellor finished summing up the total of our advantages and privileges.

Seventy-two Miles an Hour.

The Denver Times gives the following account of a regular passenger train's performance on the Burlington, one day last week:

Seventy-two miles an hour. That is the speed attained several times on the Burlington east of McCook by the Chicago-Denver train that arrived this morning.

The train was nearly an hour late out of Omaha. It lost a quarter of an hour between Omaha and Hastings, but after leaving Hastings it began to make up time. There were spurts when the seventy-two-mile schedule was kept up for four or five minutes and for an hour the average was a fraction over sixty miles an hour.

West of McCook fifty miles an hour was kept for long distances and forty miles an hour was too common to notice. The schedule itself is fast, but the engineers crowded on the steam so that the train was only twenty minutes late into Denver. It would have been here on the dot had it not been for the storm, which caused slippery tracks.

Don't Forget It.

The Grocers' Criterion of Chicago and St. Paul Trade last week presented for the benefit of their readers the following, ostensibly clipped from the Fairbault Journal:

Every dollar spent in Mower county is a Mower county dollar. Don't forget it.

Every dollar spent away is a dollar lost to Mower county. Don't forget it.

Mower county dollars mean Mower county prosperity. Don't forget it.

Mower county prosperity is our business. It is up to us. Don't forget it.

The catalogue houses never return a dollar to Mower county. Don't forget it.

A catalogue house never fixed a road or built a bridge in Mower county. Don't forget it.

A catalogue house never built a building or paid a cent of tax in Mower county. Don't forget it.

The pennywise policy never made a man rich. Don't forget it.

Everybody knows who is building up Mower county with good old Mower county dollars, and who is building up some other county with Mower county dollars; it cannot be kept a secret. Don't forget it.—Omaha Trade Exhibit.
